QUENCH.AI

Company Profile

Company Profile

Quench.ai is an innovative technology startup focused on the learning and development space. As an early-stage startup, our dynamic team of 17 is continuously growing. Our headquarters is located in London, UK, but our talented team members span across the globe.

Quench.ai is revolutionizing the way people learn and develop new skills by introducing the world's first AI video learning assistant.

Our mission is to optimize the learning experience, reduce search time, and maximize engagement by connecting users with the most relevant content across various platforms.

At Quench.ai, we believe in maximizing the return on investment in learning and development. Our cutting-edge technology makes it easy for users to discover relevant content and engage with it, whether through free resources or paid subscriptions.

Additionally, Quench.ai connects users with industry experts for personalized coaching and mentoring, ensuring a holistic and tailored learning experience.
